

Cathrine Hasse

Professor Cathrine Hasse has a long expertise in studying innovation and culture in organizations with a special focus on universities as workplaces. Her training as a cultural psychologist and anthropologist and her main study object (natural science education) have through many years of academic work steadily increased her insight in a wide variety of university disciplines. She is the author of several books on education and methodology. Visit also www.cathrinehasse.com

Andreas Pyka

Professor Andreas Pyka graduated in Economics and Management at the University of Augsburg in 1998. Thereafter he spent two years as a Post Doc at the French National Institute for Agricultural Research in Grenoble, France. From 2002 until 2003 he held a guest professorship at the Austrian Research Centers "System Research" in Vienna and habilitated in 2004. Two years later he joined the University of Bremen where he became a professor for Economic Theory. In 2009 he was appointed to a professorship at the University of Hohenheim, Stuttgart where he has held the chair for innovation economics since April 2009.

Maria Bulgheroni

Maria Bulgheroni is an Electronic engineer, she has been Ab.Acus' R&D Director since 2006. Since 1995, she has been in charge of the R&D management for research centres, clinical centres, and private companies. Her expertise is in the pianification and management of research projects and in the design and development of software applications. Her main working fields are assistive technology, biomechanics, scientific and diagnostic instrumentation management, factory automation.

Kutoma Wakunuma

Dr Kutoma Wakunuma has a PhD in Information Communication Technologies for Development and Gender. She has served as a Research Fellow on the ETICA project which was looking at ethical issues of emerging ICT Applications. She has also worked as a Fellow on a CIGREF funded project which was identifying emerging ethical issues in Information systems as well as looking at governance arrangements in the field. This was in addition to researching the ethical implications of social media in Information Systems. She currently works as a Research Fellow on the CONSIDER project which is looking at Civil Society participation in research. Dr Wakunuma was also a Research Fellow attached to the University of Witten/Herdecke in Germany under the Initiativkreis Ruhrgebiet where she was one of three awarded for outstanding research out of sixteen international Research Fellows commissioned on the Fellowship. She also teaches part time MSc and third year students Research, Ethics and Professionalism and Privacy and Data Protection respectively.

Satinder Gill

Dr Satinder Gill is an expert in social interaction and human technology. Gill's research explores the processes underlying knowledge transfer in human interaction. The role of the body in sense-making, the function of rhythm in facilitating human communication and the dynamics of technologically-mediated interaction. Dr Gill is author of Tacit Engagement: Beyond Interaction. London: Springer (2015) and editor of Cognition, Communication, and Interaction: Transdisciplinary Perspectives of Interactive Technology. Human Computer Interaction Series, London: Springer (2007). Dr Gill's third book is an edited volume exploring Relational Interfaces and the places where Art, Science, and Technology Meet. Dr Gill is based at the Centre for Music and Science at the University of Cambridge.